Dear Parents and Guardians,

I hope this letter finds you all well.

I am writing to introduce myself to you as I will be the Headteacher at Appletree Nursery School for the next few weeks and I am looking forward to meeting and getting to know all your wonderful children. What a privilege this is for me!

As a parent of two boys, I know that children are the most precious things in a parent's life. I would like to re-assure you that I will strive to create the best early years education for your child/children whilst they are members of our nursery school family and importantly I am here to support you all as I believe that parents make a very important contribution to children's achievements in the early years.

I have been a Headteacher of an Outstanding Nursery School for 11 years and I am extremely passionate about early years education. From my experience, I know that a successful and happy nursery school depends on all of us working together so I am looking forward to getting to know parents, guardians and carers as well as all the staff and governors.

Please do come and introduce yourselves to me – I will attempt to be at the door before and after school on the days that I am at Appletree. If you prefer, you are also welcome to contact me anytime by email or by phone. I will always have time for you and your children.

I will be available on my first day Monday 7th June in the afternoon if you would like to say hello.

I look forward to seeing you all soon and I hope you all have a lovely half term break.

Yours sincerely

Mrs Cooper
Headteacher
